Andrew (“Andy”) D.W. Hill has more than 30 years of portfolio management experience. He is the President of Andrew Hill Investment Advisors, a boutique investment advisory firm that he co-founded with business partner Jennifer Figurelli in 2010. Over the ten years in business, the firm has grown to manage over $100mm in client assets. In addition, Andy is a frequent speaker on the integration of environmental, social, and governance issues into equity research.

Prior to forming his own firm, he was a Senior Portfolio Manager and regional Chief Investment Officer with two regional Trust banks. While at both institutions, Andy served in various nationwide investment strategy capacities including forming asset allocation recommendations and political research.

Andy holds an MBA from Syracuse University and a Bachelor of Science degree from Canisius College. He is a Chartered Financial Analyst. He is a Past President of the Financial Analysts Society of Naples. Andy was inducted into the Sigma Beta Delta International Honor Society and inducted into the Canisius College DiGamma Honor Society.

Andy is frequently interviewed by the financial media covering the financial markets. His comments are often mentioned in Investor’s Business Daily, Naples News, Fort Myers News Press, and he has also appeared on CNBC and FOX.

He currently serves on the Southeast Regional Advisory Committee for the National Parks Conservation. Previously, he served on the Hodges University President’s Council and the Board of Directors for the Collier County Medical Society Foundation. Andy was previously the Vice Chair of the board of Directors for the Conservancy of Southwest Florida; Board of Directors of the Snook & Game Fish Foundation; Past President of the Estuary Conservation Association.

Andy is married to Dr. Susan M. Liberski and they have a German Shepherd dog, “Skipper”. In his spare time, he enjoys spending time with his family, fishing on his boat and relaxing at his second home in Chokoloskee, Florida.
