Landscaping Irrigation Restrictions to Conserve Water

More than 50 percent of the water used by South Florida residents is for landscape irrigation. With billions of gallons of water used every day and projections for continued population growth, we all need to do our part to conserve water and ensure there is enough for all of us, including communities and the environment, to survive and thrive.

In order to conserve water, the South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) and local cities and counties have permanent Landscape Irrigation Conservation measures in place. These measures limit landscape watering to either two days a week or three days a week depending on where the property owner lives. The rule applies when the source of water for irrigation is a utility, lake, pond, canal or a well.

New Landscapes

The Landscape Irrigation Rule allows additional watering for up to 90 days following the installation of new lawns and landscaping

- On the day new landscaping is installed, new plantings and the soil may be irrigated once without regard to the normally allowable watering days and times. Soil irrigation is also allowed immediately prior to planting
- New plantings that have been in place for 30 days or less may be watered on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and/or Sundays
- New plantings that have been in place from 31 to 90 days may be watered on Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and/or Saturdays
- Irrigation is limited to the areas containing new landscaping only. An entire irrigation zone may be watered only if new landscaping is planted on at least 50 percent of that zone. If new landscaping is planted on less than 50 percent of an irrigation zone, only the new plantings may be watered

Exclusions to the SFWMD Year-Round Rule

- The use of low-volume irrigation methods – including micro-irrigation, container watering and hand-watering with a hose (with an automatic shut-off nozzle) – is allowed anytime
- The use of reclaimed water and harvested rainwater for irrigation purposes is allowed anytime

Alternative Irrigation Schedule

If unique circumstances prohibit adherence to the mandatory landscape irrigation conservation measures, individuals and businesses/organizations may seek an alternative schedule that still meets the intent of the rule. Guidance is available online or by contacting Jim Harmon at jharmon@sfwmd.gov to learn more about the alternative irrigation schedule request and approval process
