SFWMD Hosts Public Workshop on Year-Round Landscape Irrigation Conservation Measures

WHAT: The South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) continues to promote water conservation for its many benefits in meeting the growing demands on South Florida's limited water supply.

As part of that effort, the District is moving forward with the rule development process for expanding year-round landscape irrigation conservation measures, already in place in Charlotte, Collier and Lee counties, across the District's entire 16-county region.

The workshop will serve as an open forum for interested parties and the general public to provide input on the latest proposed changes to the rule, which will be presented by District staff.

WHEN: Friday, January 23, 2009

TIME: 3 p.m.

WHERE: SFWMD Headquarters
B-1 Building, Storch Room
3301 Gun Club Road
West Palm Beach, FL., 33406

About the South Florida Water Management District – Celebrating 60 Years \(1949-2009\)

The South Florida Water Management District is a regional, governmental agency that oversees the water resources in the southern half of the state – 16 counties from Orlando to the Keys. It is the oldest and largest of the state's five water management districts. The agency mission is to manage and protect water resources of the region by balancing and improving water quality, flood control, natural systems and water supply. A key initiative is cleanup and restoration of the Everglades.
